Of this amount, 885,772 cords was exported to the UnitedJStates and may be credited to lands in private ownership. Also, a considerable volume of the wood from privately-owned lands was manufactured in -Canada. Taking the situation as a whole, with 155 million cords of actually available spruce and balsam, on the basis of delivery at the mill, and a cut in 1918 of around 3 million cords, it is estimated that Quebec has, at the present time, the equivalent of 52 yearso supply. Beyond this 52...
