

Who s in Charge Here?: The Tangled Web of School Governance and Policy (Paperback)

By -

BROOKINGS INSTITUTION, United States, 2006. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Behind the scenes, a revolution is taking place in primary and secondary education. Once thought sacrosanct, the principle of local lay control has come under growing attack. In the 1970s and 1980s, governors sought greater influence by promulgating academic standards and even taking over failing schools. Mayors soon followed, with some wresting control of struggling local school systems. Atop this, the president and Congress greatly extended their reach into U.S. classrooms with enactment of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001, which requires annual reading and math tests in grades 3 through 8, tougher yardsticks to measure whether pupils are making sufficient progress, and penalties for schools that persistently fall short. The result is a spider s web of responsibility. It is difficult, if not impossible, to figure out where accountability lies. Not only have municipal, state, and federal authorities reasserted control over the separate education government that the nation long ago created, but an array of other institutions -including the courts, community-based organizations, and education management companies -are also deeply involved in school decisions. These trends have created a growing gap between those who...
